

How closely each reconstruction tracks the published traits, inside each interval

Spearman of $-\log_{10} p$ across markers within the published interval. Filled points clear Bonferroni somewhere in that interval, open points do not — tracking the published signal and detecting it are different things.

● vs published PC1 ● vs published Slope ○ does not ● clears Bonferroni in the interval

